Well, hello again everybody. This is Robert Raymond Riopel and this is Success Left a Clue, the podcast where I take everyday lessons. Once a week, I put out information. I give you little insight from everyday lessons, everyday clues to success that I see from me all around the world.

I want to definitely start this one off by thanking you because we're coming up on our one year anniversary. This is Episode #51. Next week's Episode 52 is the one year from when I decided to start this podcast.

I never knew, never dreamed and never even expected, will I get to a year? And it has gone by so quickly and it is awesome. So many people say they appreciate the program. And so for that, we love it. We appreciate you. So thank you for being you. Thank you for listening. Thank you for all that.

So this episode here. Oh I got to tell you. Again, we are going to come to you using a song as a theme for this. It's interesting, I'm in Hanoi, Vietnam right now. Just finished an event last weekend. And I was downstairs. I was having breakfast with my co-trainer. And all of a sudden the song came on and it hit me. And I told him I'm going to make this an episode. So take a listen to the song and then let's get back to what the lesson is about. So listen close, here it is.

[Song plays]

Excellent. So that song is called Rude by Magic and this song talks about being perfect for today. Here's what I mean when I talk about that.

So, as I was mentioning my gentleman, that's my co-trainer. His name is Tim Huynh. And in 2012, I met him for the first time. And when I met him I was in Sydney Australia during an event with one of my mentors, T. Harv Eker.

And some came up to us and said, one of our staff, he said, "Look, there is a young man who says he wants to be a trainer with us. And we're wondering, we think he's pretty good. Can we just put him on stage so he can bring people back from the break so you can listen to him, see him and let us know your thoughts if you think he'll make it".

We said, "Sure." We put him up. And he absolutely blew us away. He absolutely blew us away with his energy and his style. And we said, "Yes, definitely!"

Well since that time, over the last five years, I've had the blessing, the absolute blessing of getting to work with him. I've watched him on his journey from doing what is called an assistant trainer in training, to becoming an assistant trainer, where he then started delivering some data.

Whereas last weekend, it was his first time with me being a co-trainer. And he delivered half the data from the program that we taught. So he was with me last weekend. Next weekend, we're in Ho Chi Minh doing the exact same program again and he will be my co-trainer. Watching his journey has been amazing.

So where does this all come in? Well, Tim is a new father of a three-month old baby boy – absolutely gorgeous little boy. And he's a newlywed. And when we heard the song we were eating breakfast and all of a sudden the song came up and I go, "I love that song."

And he starts laughing and goes, "You know, that's my theme song." And I'm like, "What do you mean?" And all of a sudden it hit me. Because I know when he got married, yes, he's in laws he was were not too happy about it. And just like in the song, "Why you got to be so rude? I'm going to marry her anyway. We're both going to be standing at that altar. Why you got to be so rude?" And the father-in-law in the song is like, "I don't care what you say. I'm not giving you my blessing."

And you may wonder what that has to do with success, with an episode of the podcast. Well, let me explain. That is life right there. We come up with dreams. We have dreams. We have things that we want to do. And people in our opinion seem to be rude. Just because it's not a dream that they believe is possible for themselves and for us. All of a sudden, it seems like they're like, "You're never going to achieve it. You're not going to have it. You're not the right person."

And we take that energy on well or do you? A lot of people do. They take that energy on and it feels like people are being rude to them. And what I want you to understand is their energy towards you has nothing to do with you. It has everything to do with them. And let me explain what I mean.

Don Miguel Ruiz, amazing author, he has a book that transforms millions of lives called The Four Agreements. If you have not read that book, The Four Agreements by Don Miguel Ruiz, you need to go out and find it and read it. And Don Miguel Ruiz talks about one of the agreements, don't take things personally.

Even when someone says something to you that seems so personal, so personal, it has nothing to do with you. They are actually projecting the law of projection. They are projecting onto you a belief that they have about themselves, someone cannot see in you something unless in somewhere in their deep self or even conscious self, believe in themselves first.

So if someone's being rude to you or you perceive they are being rude because they are saying, "You can't achieve it, you can't do it, you're not the right person, whatever, I don't like you." They are really saying that about themselves. They are actually projecting that onto you.

And so, when it comes to your dreams, you cannot lean. I did a podcast on dreams. You cannot let them send you that poison because what Don Miguel Ruiz says, just because someone puts poison on your plate, doesn't mean you have to eat it. And the moment you do, you take that poison in, then you've allowed their poison to become your poison.

And if you fully understand this and you fully realize this, you look at it, then you might actually instead of getting upset of people who seem to be rude towards you, you might feel a little bit of compassion towards them because what's going to be going on in their life for them to actually believe that about themselves to believe inside that they can't have it, they don't deserve it, they don't have the right education, they are not the right person, whatever it is.

And that's why I even said to them, I said, oh my goodness, because one of my clues, write it down. That's what I do. We were actually having a conversation about podcast and he was wondering how he could start his podcast. He's done one a little bit but he's all around tenants because that's what his expertise. And so, I was giving him insights on how to take that expertise and turn it into life lessons for people in business, in their life, going for their dreams.

And I said to him, I looked at him and said, “You realize as I’m pulling out my phone and start writing in my notes, I said, you realize this is about to be a podcast episode.” And he goes what do you mean? I said, that’s a perfect lesson right there. Everything you’ve gone through with your in laws for your wedding, your marriage and why they’ve got to be so rude that they don’t think they want you to marry their daughter.

And I said, I am going to turn it into a life lesson because you know it’s got nothing to do with them or with you. It’s all about them. And he got it. And so, I suddenly left him for breakfast. I am up here. What am I doing right now? I am setting up my computer. I am recording this episode.

So ladies and gentlemen, look, even when it seems so personal, do not allow that to come in. Feel compassion for the person, for what they may be going through. And you don’t have to say it to them but in your mind you can be saying, “I get that. It is about you and I am sorry that you feel that way. And I am sorry that you are not willing to go for your own dreams or you don’t believe you deserve your dreams. But what you are saying right now has nothing to do with me, it has everything to do with you. And I choose not to take it on.”

Having that little inner dialogue to help yourself be able to not take on other people’s crap is a very, very powerful success principle, very powerful clue in your life. So that’s what this podcast is about. Every week I take a few minutes just to take those clues that are coming to me from around the world and deliver those nuggets of gold to you.

I want to thank everybody again for all those of you that have been down in just listening to this podcast since last year and that will continue listening to it. I appreciate it. I love it if you are getting something out of it wherever, whether it is iTunes or whatever you do for it, Android, that you are downloading the podcast. Please leave us a comment, please rate the program. You can go to my website successleftaclue.com to get the transcript for it.

If you haven’t done so yet, my book Success Left a Clue is now out and it is on Amazon. So you can get it there. And actually I encourage you to go order it and soon even the electronic copy will be out as well.

So ladies and gentlemen, episode number 51 coming close to that one year mark. Success Left a Clue. Thank you so much for being amazing. Always live with passion and I look forward to having you on the next episode. Have a great day.
